

Experience innovation and connection at BOPSS 2025 in Brighton

Brighton, UK – 25th – 27th June 2025 – Mark your calendars for June 2025! British Oculoplastic Surgery Society (BOPSS) is set to take place in the vibrant coastal city of Brighton, offering a great opportunity to connect, collaborate, and innovate.

BOPSS 2025 promises three action-packed days filled with thought-provoking lectures, engaging workshops, and invaluable networking opportunities. Here's why you won't want to miss BOPSS 2025:

1. Inspiring keynote speakers:

Hear from renowned international speakers Ilse Mombaerts, Bobbie Korn, and Javed Ali (as well as UK talent and some special surprises).

2. Interactive workshops:

For trainees, and nurses / allied professionals, participate in hands-on workshops designed to enhance your skills and knowledge. Collaborate with your peers and leave with practical tools you can apply in your own practice.

3. Scenic location and social activities:

Brighton, known for its vibrant culture and stunning coastline, provides the perfect backdrop for a memorable conference. Experience the local vibe with a reception at the beautiful Brighton Pavilion and dinner at the iconic i360. Unwind and connect with fellow delegates with yoga, sea swimming and more.....

Join us at BOPSS 2025!

Whether you're looking to expand your knowledge, update your skills, meet friends old or new, or simply enjoy the seaside, BOPSS 2025 is the must attend oculoplastic event for 2025. Stay tuned for more details on speakers, abstract submission and early bird registration.

About the British Oculoplastic Surgery Society (BOPSS)

BOPSS is dedicated to bringing together oculoplastic professionals working to enhance knowledge and benefit patients - www.bopss.co.uk